DOUGLAS SOCIETY.

The dance at the Orpheum on Monday night given by the cowboys shows that they are equally as skilled in "tripping the light fantastic" as they are expert at steer tying. And while not as wildly exciting as the latter the enthusiasm was none the less. There were many spectators present, for there were few who had ever had the opportunity of attending a cowboy dance before. Many of the dancers were make-believe cowboys, but even though they donned a big red kerchief and wore borrowed boots, could not deceive the onlookers. The dancing continued until a late hour and was a success in every way.

The reception given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Episcopal church at the rectory on Wednesday evening was attended by a large number of church members and their friends. It was given for the purpose of promoting sociability among the church members. Mrs. Keene and Mrs. Kirk, who delivered pleasing selections. Mrs. Piper and Mr. Nichols sang solos. During the evening various games were enjoyed by those present. Refreshments of fruit punch and cake were served.

Owing to the illness of Mr. Fred Nichols the Episcopal choir did not repeat the Easter cantata on last Sunday evening as announced, but will do so at the services tomorrow. On Easter night so many were turned away because of the crowd that the choir has been urged to repeat their cantata for those disappointed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Piper entertained a number of their friends at cards on Thursday evening of this week.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

The Woman's club held its annual meeting Monday, April 8. On account of the rapid growth of the club and its numerous activities, a revision of the constitution became necessary. Mrs. S. W. The revision was adopted with hearty approval and was adopted.

Report of Educational Committee.
In general with all the other branches of our club work that of the educational department has been very satisfactory and encouraging. On the beginning of the club year our president appointed a committee to take charge of and conduct the educational department.

Our first undertaking was to establish a sewing class for girls and on the first Saturday in February of this year we opened the class with only and we have found it very satisfactory. The girls have taken creditable interest in the work and their progress has been beyond the best expectations of those in charge.

I would advise that the club endeavor to have the sewing class given a place in the public schools of Douglas, and if possible have a department established for the work.

The department has as assets at present:
Cash on hand, 60 cents. One text book, "Home and School Sewing."

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. J. F. ROSS,
Chairman of Committee.

Literary Department

This department has an enrollment of twenty members, meeting for two study sessions each month.
The last volume of Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables" and "Catherine de Medici" by Balzac have been the subjects of study for the past club year.

The contrast of styles of these French writers, each dealing with the people of France, but of types so different, has been a source of much pleasant discussion. As has been a keen appreciation been given the historical setting of Balzac's "Catherine de Medici," which covers a period of some thirty years, during which time three kings occupied the throne, all to a degree, unwillingly influenced by Catherine.

One of the programs of the regular session of the club have been furnished by the literary department, at which reviews of books studied, with other interesting papers on same subjects followed by general discussions, constituted the program.

"Character Sketch of Dickens," "Paris as Depicted in 'Tale of Two Cities,'" "Paris as Depicted in 'Tale of Two Cities,'" were respectively submitted.

MRS. B. BARNES,
Chairman.

The books for the literary department have arrived and will be distributed Monday.

CHIEF MADE A MISTAKE

Thought Dogs Had Been stolen and Had Englishman Detained.

NEW YORK, April 12.—An indignant young man, with an English accent and calling himself Harry K. Rees, loudly declared at Police Headquarters yesterday that he was going to sue the Police Department for damages for false arrest.

Inspector McLaughlin received on Thursday a telegram from the Chief of Police at Brunswick, Ga., asking him to meet the steamer City of Brunswick when it arrived at its pier at the foot of West Fourteenth street and arrest a man who had two setters dogs with him. The dogs, the chief said, had been stolen.

Detective Sullivan met the steamer Friday afternoon and found Rees preparing to leave with a setter dog. The detective could find only one dog. He decided that Rees was the man wanted and escorted him to Headquarters. Yesterday the Brunswick Chief sent word that a mistake had been made; no dog had been stolen. The police apologized to Rees, but he was to mad to let it go that.

Tombstoner Paralyzed.—Judge Chas. Granville Johnston is confined to his bed at his home in Tombstone, stricken with partial paralysis, the same afflicting his right arm and throat causing inarticulation, being unable to talk above a whisper. At times he is unable to talk at all. Today his condition is reported slightly improved and it is hoped he may soon recover. Some time since the judge was similarly affected, being suddenly seized with similar symptoms, but remained confined to his bed for some days.

SWEETHEART WAS A PRETTY WOMAN DEVOTED TO EYTINGE COULD NOT SEE PRESIDENT

Alleged Murderer Says Woman in Los Angeles Offered Him Her Fortune on Which to Make Good His Escape.

Mrs. Von Clausen Was Turned Away By Loeb's Assistant, Wants Commission to Examine Her For Insanity.

According to an Associated Press dispatch sent out from San Francisco Friday, Louis V. Eytinge will return to Arizona without the formality of extradition. He was also aware that Sheriff Hayden would arrive at San Rafael after him tonight.

The San Francisco papers of the day before yesterday published lengthy interviews with him on the subject of the accusation of murder. He spoke of the gambling on the desert when he won all of Leitch's money and of Leitch's refusal to return to town with him. In the letter to the Republic, Eytinge alluded to the eldorado bottle but he said nothing about the chloroform can found near the body of Leitch. In his interview with the reporters of the San Francisco papers he took that matter up and said that the chloroform had been taken along to kill snakes.

Eytinge related at length his relations with Mrs. Davis, a model in a Los Angeles cloak store, whom he and Leitch met on their way to Phoenix. He said that Mrs. Davis had separated from her husband by mutual consent and after a division of their property, the wife's share being $2,500.

He said that after going to Los Angeles he met Mrs. Davis and she having learned of his criminal career offered him her money if he would form and lead an honest life. He said that in response to this proposition he struck her in a fit of anger. However, he resolved to follow her advice and went to San Francisco where by means of a forged recommendation he had secured employment at Kraven's, where he was arrested.

He said that after his arrival in San Francisco he wrote Mrs. Davis and that his letter fell into the hands of a female Pinkerton woman and thus his hiding place was pointed out. Mrs. Davis, who was interviewed at Los Angeles the next day, told a somewhat different story. She said that she had met Eytinge and Leitch on a train and traveled with them until they left the train for Phoenix. She had taken an interest in them only because they seemed to be in ill health. She had no other communication with Eytinge until he appeared in Los Angeles. After he left there she received a letter from him and answered it.

WAR PRICES DOWN SOUTH.

Quinine, $1.70 an ounce—Flour $300 a barrel—Fish $5 a pound.
In 1865 an ounce of Quinine could not be purchased for less than $1,700 in the South. Provisions were sold at $200 a barrel and articles of wearing apparel sold, coats at $250, trousers at $100 and boots $250.

Butter was $15 a pound. Potatoes went for $2 a quart. Tomatoes of the size of a walnut sold for $20 a dozen. Chickens varied from $35 to $50 a pair.
The prices on the bill of fare of the Richmond Restaurant in January, 1864, were: Soup, $1.50; bread and butter, $1.50; roast beef, a plate, $5; boiled eggs, $2; ham and eggs, $3.50; rock fish, a plate, $5; fried oysters, a plate, $5; raw oysters, $3; fresh milk, a glass, $2; coffee, a cup, $2; tea, a cup, $2.

These figures are taken from various sources and have the virtue of accuracy, if nothing else. Always was present the fear of famine, and time and time again did the soldiers donate a portion of their rations, taken from their apportionment in the field, to relieve the pressing necessities.

The shrinkage of the currency was of course responsible, and some idea may be gathered from a story that went the rounds at the time. A soldier galloped along a country road and a farmer leaning over a fence admired the animal he rode. He called to the trooper, offering to buy the horse.

"Give you $30,000 for him, Johnny," he said.

"Not much, old man, I just paid $15,000 to have him shod," was the reply.

It shows Him Taking a Fence on a Hunter and Has Been Copied Widely.

The most widely published and best known photograph in existence is said to be that of President Roosevelt taking a fence on his favorite hunter. This has been printed in almost every paper and magazine in the world which uses half-tones, and the sales from it have already amounted to more than $40,000, making it the most profitable photograph ever taken.

Nearly 1,000 copies have been signed by the President to be used as special gifts and the demand for it wherever it has been placed on sale has been steady during the three and a half years since it was made.

It was made with a shutter than opened and closed in one fifteen-hundredth part of a second. The President, accompanied by an orderly, left the Cabinet meeting one morning and took the photograph at Chiswick.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Mrs. Ida M. von Clausen, who came all the way from Stockholm, prepared to upset Uncle Sam's diplomatic corps, because Minister Graves would not present her to King Oscar's court, even when Oscar, whom she had "jolted" at Wiesbaden, "was just crazy to see her."

She couldn't even get as far as Secretary Loeb, who sent an assistant out to meet her and direct her suitably to the state department. Thereupon Mrs. von Clausen retired from the White House after leaving a communication requesting that the president appoint a commission to inquire into her sanity before she proceeds further.

Asks Lunacy Commission.

The letter follows:
"WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9, 1907.—To the Right Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, Sir.—Mrs. von Clausen is in receipt of President Roosevelt's refusal to see her and to dress the insults offered her by his representatives in Sweden, Mr. and Mrs. Graves. She cannot appeal to the state department as she received its final decision before she left Sweden.

Mrs. von Clausen begs President Roosevelt to at once appoint a committee of experts to make sure that she is of sound mind before she proceeds further in this case, for she knows well from previous reports that when President Roosevelt is 'cornered' he has the habit of appointing such committees to help him out of his difficulties. Therefore, not caring to lay herself open to further criticism, Mrs. von Clausen demands that such a committee be appointed at once, otherwise she will call the experts in herself.

"IDA M. VON CLAUSSEN."

Stir at the White House.
Mrs. von Clausen's appearance at the White House created a sensation among the policemen, messengers and assembled multitude. Impressionable young men who "cover" the White House for the newspapers, describe her ecstatically as gorgeous as a gorgeous turnout—as gorgeous as the public livery afford—and as she tripped into the anteroom she swept the air with several hundred dollars' worth of brown ostrich plumes that surrounded her picture hat. Her plumes, her picture hat, her dress, her costume, defied the descriptive powers of the masculine pen.

"Could you blame King Oscar," said several as they grasped in admiration.

Greets the Reporters.

"Oh! my friends, the reporters," said Mrs. von Clausen, as she stepped the group around the pressroom door, and with outstretched arms, she swept them all. A policeman, who was nearly bumped over in her impetuous rush, was almost afraid to go to the bosom of his family to point because of the "perfumery smell" that clung to his clothes.

For some time the visitor unfolded her tale of woe to all who would listen. The White House authorities have as yet done nothing in the matter of the sanity commission. There is no prospect that Mrs. von Clausen will see President Roosevelt. She expects no consideration from the state department.

The production of the Arizona Copper company for the year 1906, was 26,000,000 pounds of copper. That of the Shannon Copper company was 12,000,000 pounds. The total production of the Clifton-Morenci Mining district was 56,000,000 pounds valued at upwards of $10,000,000.

The Arizona Copper company have four large stores, the central one being at Clifton and the branch stores at Morenci, Metcalf and Coronado. As is customary with department stores in Arizona mining camps, everything that can be bought of for personal, house or family use is to be had in any of the four establishments. These stores are heavily stocked with the latest and best goods to be obtained in the markets, fitting all needs and purses. They are thoroughly organized and in charge of experienced managers, who have every facility at hand for the rapid dispatch of orders and business. The annual sales of these stores is very large, and goods are sold at reasonable prices. The stores are under the supervision of E. M. Williams, who maintains his headquarters at Clifton. The Clifton store is one of the largest department stores in the Territory. In order to accommodate their large and expanding trade, a large new addition to their store is being built. A handsome separate store is now occupied by the drug department, which carries a full line of pure drugs, patent medicines and sundries.—El Paso Herald.

times before a successful picture was taken.

President Roosevelt is probably the most photographed man in the world, with the possible exception of Emperor William, and photographers assert unreservedly that he is most difficult to pose. He is nervous, and is often snapped in what might seem a hit or miss style, but every picture ever taken of him is thoroughly characteristic.

This chilly weather in the East is certain to kill the blooms on the peach trees, and the peach trees are equally certain to be gnawed under their load of fruit next summer.

Making Light of a Heavy Washday

This highly improved HORTON Washer will take all the strain of washday off your back and shoulders. While you turn it slowly and easily—without stooping—the HORTON high-speed gear does the work by forcing a hot blast of suds through and through the clothes under a pressure that takes all the dirt out quickly.

You will never realize how easy your washday might be until you have examined this new-idea washer. You will be surprised to find that no matter how slowly you turn the handle the working part of the washer is going at high speed and putting washday behind it almost as fast as you run the clothes through the wringer.

Will you investigate this for yourself? Just step into a good hardware or general store and ask to see the

ACOSTA PARDONED BY GOVERNOR KIBBEY

Confirmed Drunkard Took McKanna Liquor Cure and Won His Freedom.

On October 23, 1906, Governor Kibbey issued a pardon to Ramon Acosta, an inmate of the county jail of Maricopa county. The circumstances were unique. Acosta is a shoemaker, and for years has been conducting a little shop in Phoenix when he was sober. But the liquor habit grew on him and he was repeatedly arrested and fined. The climax came when, on the 15th of October, Justice Burnett sentenced him to twenty days in jail. It so chanced that five days later there was established in Phoenix a salubrious of the McKanna 2-Day Liquor Cure.

The McKanna company offered to treat Acosta free of charge if Governor Kibbey would pardon him, the man having a large family of destitute children. The governor agreed to do so. Justice Burnett would recommend it. The treatment was begun and three days later Judge Burnett made the recommendation and Governor Kibbey issued the pardon. This was more than five months ago and to this good hour Acosta has not taken another drink, but has been making an honest living for his family.

A permanent office of the McKanna Liquor Cure has just been established in Bisbee, with Charles G. Fuller in charge. Mr. Fuller has every convenience, including electric baths, for scientific treatment of all cases of alcoholism. Office, Room 1, Letson block, Main street. Mr. Fuller is a graduate nurse and masseur and has had extensive experience in the liquor cure work in Massachusetts and New Jersey. Phone 382.
